The New Reality: A Global Economic Perspective

Over the last several decades the world has been described in terms of the developed and developing nations. Perhaps we should be talking of the submerging versus the emerging world? The emerging world is driven by the two most populous giants, India and China, whilst the submerging world is represented by nations such as Iceland, Greece, United Kingdom and America. Where do we sit in the divide between submerging and emerging and what are the key factors which will shape and define our world in the decades ahead?

Jonathan Pain will share his insights with members, painting a vivid picture of the global landscape based on his extensive research into the world's diverse economies and the behaviours that drive their fiscal engines.

Jonathan has 25 years of international investment experience including roles as Chief Investment Strategist of HFA Asset Management, Chief Investment Officer of Rothschild Australia Asset Management, Head of Investments at Gulf International Bank in Bahrain and Chair of the International Asset Allocation Committee at Paribas Asset Management in London.
